Best African Movies And Content On The Platform

Meroestream is about Africa rising. Rising from the beneath the knees of western or western-centric platforms, and building a place of our own for our own stories, without Gate Keepers.

Meroe was the capital of ancient Nubia and the Kush nation: A people who equalled and bettered many of the world's civilisations of their time. It is fitting therefore that our name should invoke the majesty of an ancient people of colour

We are calling to Africans and people of African descent from all over the world to be part of a platform that is built for African content and with a mission to strengthen the voice of African film makers.

We also invite allies; friendly non-African supporters of African arts/culture to come along on the journey.

Support African Film Makers - MeroeStream honours the wish of content owners and the bulk of what you pay for content goes to film makers. MeroeStream is the platform to support African film makers.

Value For Your Money - No monthly subscriptions. Pay for what you view or watch content for free.