of her photo-blogging experience. We hope you enjoy this interview. THE Q AND AQ AND THE ANSWERS Q: Tell us a little bit about your background and how you came to decide to go into computer training? A: I was born and raised in a small town in Pennsylvania. I went to a private high school for girls where I did not receive much of a computer education. I went on to college at the University of Pittsburgh where I received my Bachelor of Science in Computer Engineering. While working on my degree I became interested in Microsoft Excel, and I have been computerized ever since. I am not sure why, but I was able to fit the basics of computer technology into my life very easily. Q: How long have you been blogging? A: I started my photo blog in August 2006. My personal blog has not changed much in the past eight years. I have been doing my photo blog as a hobby and have enjoyed documenting my life with the pictures I take. I get a lot of enjoyment from showing my family and friends my digital images. When I started blogging, I was a high school student, so I chose to use my first blog name because it is more fun to write with a name that starts with an "A." Q: What has blogging taught you about yourself and how you interact with others? A: I have learned so much about myself through blogging. I have met some amazing people through blogging that I would never have met in any other way. Q: What do you like about blogging? A: What I like about blogging is that I can express myself in ways that I do not feel comfortable doing in person.

NProfile Features: NProfile has many features, such as a PDF printer, a news manager, the ability to modify the text in a database, and a global search. It also includes a way to detect and remove duplicate data from the database. This is a feature that other programs do not have, so it is useful. The only downside to the program is that it is a little bit expensive. It is available for a monthly fee, and it costs $49.95, which is quite expensive. The program can be downloaded here, which is a plus. Pros: It has many useful features. You can modify text easily. You can change the background color. The program is not very expensive. You can easily create a database. It is easy to use. Cons: There is a fee to use the program. The application is not very nice to use.
