RSS Reader Builder License Code & Keygen

Read any news, traffic, weather and other information from Google news feed!... Create your own RSS reader that shows up in Internet Explorer Favorites! For example, if you have a news site, you can put links in your Favorites bar, and when users open your page, it will open in their RSS reader, which is already set up with your site! Features: - support for IE7 and IE8 - 100% working - easy to understand - fast to create (no coding needed) How it works: * Users can click on the RSS icon in Internet Explorer Favorites toolbar and navigate to your page directly from there, or bookmark the link for later use. * When users open your page in IE, it will open in their RSS reader (like news reader, Windows Live, or others), and the RSS icon will appear in the Favorites toolbar. * Users will know how to get to your page directly from the Favorites bar, just like they know how to get to sites in the Favorites bar that use IE Favorites or Yahoo! Bookmarks! * No matter what RSS reader you have installed, users will use the RSS icon to get to your RSS site. Sample shows: Example 1: I have a news site I have 2 different RSS feeds for this site. One is for hot news and one is for popular news. Users can click on the RSS icon in the Favorites bar, and navigate directly to these two news feeds from there. Example 2: I have a site for a store www.store.com. I have a news feed for this site. When users open www.store.com, it will open in their RSS reader, which is already set up with www.store.com news feed. The RSS icon will appear in the Favorites toolbar. To get to your RSS site, users just need to click on the RSS icon in Favorites, and a new window will open with the news item selected. How to install: 1. unzip rss.zip 2. copy/paste the rss.dll file to C:\Windows\System32. 3. copy/paste the rss.inf file to C:\Windows\system32. 4. follow the instruction in ReadMe.txt
