URL Verifier [Updated] 2022

URL Verifier is a lightweight and portable utility that enables you to check multiple web domains at the same time to find out whether or not they're still active. It features intuitive options that can be tackled with ease by all types of users, even the ones less experienced with such networking tools. Straightforward interface and features The application adopts a decent interface which includes a ribbon bar. However, the primary options are available in the right-click menu. Website links can be loaded from an external plain text document with Unicode encoding mode (one URL per line). Once the verification process is over, you can find out the alive status of each record in the list. Load URLs from file to check websites It's possible to verify all or just the selected URLs, recheck the ones which had errors in previous sessions, as well as export all links and statuses to file for closer examination. Any entry can be selected and copied to the Clipboard with one click. Moreover, you can hide the status bar and stop the verification process if it takes too long or if you simply change your mind. Doesn't need installation URL Verifier comes packed in a single.exe file that you can copy to a custom directory on the disk or to an external storage device to seamlessly launch it on any PC without any installation. It doesn't modify registry settings or create new files on the disk without approval. Evaluation and conclusion Although URL Verifier hasn't received updates for a long time, we haven't experienced any compatibility issues with later Windows versions in our tests. It had minimal impact on system performance, consuming low CPU and RAM. To wrap it up, this software application comes packed with intuitive options to help you check the availability of multiple websites at the same time without any stress.
