Noori Nastaliq Font For Ms Word Download

Viewers in this video, I will show you how to write an URDU Questionnaire with the help of Jamil Nuri Nastaliq. This is going to be a tough video because it's based on interviews with hundreds of Western and many Russian top managers. It will be especially useful for business owners and all entrepreneurs who do not know how to design and write quality interview questions. I began by giving the terms of our standards and requirements for conducting interviews, which change every year. I'm exaggerating because companies rarely write questions themselves, but still. In the conditions of Western countries and in organizations operating in the local market, interviews are conducted very often. And there are three features here: one) Participation in the interview of representatives of the company is usually mandatory. If the interviewee refuses to attend the interview, the company may sue him. 2) In Western companies, different people come for interviews - professionals in their field and so-called "newcomers" (who doesn't know - they come and say that they are a new product and want to know the opinion of the consumer). 3) It is recommended that interviewed managers be over 35 and presentable. It is believed that "old people" are more skillful than "young people". So, the first question I will ask our Western businessmen: "Why did you choose us?" I will try to state my conclusions and repeat this question from time to time. So the first question - "Why did you contact us?" The expression "why?" puts the company's focus on the product or service and allows you to highlight the characteristics of the service or product in the most interesting way. There is even such an expression in Western marketing - "why should a campaign support a company?" Let's see, in my opinion, why companies "start" cooperation with us. one. Because we: Loyal. We understand that we are with you in this life to live. We believe that a company should first of all serve people and work for the development of society, and not for its own well-being. 2. We take into account your wishes and suggestions. We adhere to a single concept of marketing. This means that we give you the opportunity to choose whether to make an offer or not. 3. We have experience in your field. We are convinced that we must be experts in your field. We see that you have problems and we know how to solve them. Our knowledge and experience in this area allow
