Introduction This article will demonstrate how to play the main clan role as a sniper. 2. The role Snipers (also known as "marksman" or "spotters") are responsible for making sure that the attacking team gets most points. 3. Neutral objectives The objective for the sniper is to be the one who picks up most of the enemy team's currency. The neutral objective is usually the kill box. 4. How to play My recommendations for playing this role are as follows: a) Use the less lethal weapons against the weakest team members b) Avoid winning the first game of the match c) Try to play along with your comrades d) During CS games, listen to your teammates and have them communicate with you. This is a bit of an advanced strategy but it works in this game. 5. Balancing You have to be very careful not to overshadow the direct damage in the game. 6. I recommend bringing down a teammate by the first gunfight of the match before you ruin your chances to win the match. If you are close to losing the game, but in the first few seconds, then wait a little and try to make your way back into the game. 7. It is important to make sure your weapon is working properly. 8. Recommendations These are a few recommendations that I have found to be important in getting this role to work: a)

Visit phase I clinical trial with systemic immunotherapy using autologous tumor cells and a human granulocyte-macrophage colony-stimulating factor. We conducted a phase I clinical trial in which patients received systemic immunotherapy with autologous tumor cells and human granulocyte-macrophage colony-stimulating factor (hGM-CSF) to investigate the maximum-tolerated dose (MTD) and side effects. Nine patients with unresectable, advanced solid tumors were studied. The patients' tumor types were melanoma (n = 7), metastatic squamous cell carcinoma of the head and neck (n = 1), primary pulmonary (n = 1), and anal canal (n = 1). The patients received 1 x 10(6) tumor cells (n = 7) or 5 x 10(6) tumor cells (n = 4) on day 1 and 15 mg of hGM-CSF by continuous infusion from day 16. The treatment was repeated every 8 weeks with a maximum of three cycles. No antitumor effects were detected in any of the patients. A dose-limiting toxic effect was observed at 1 x 10(6) tumor cells in four of the five evaluable patients. The reason for this toxicity was leukopenia with a nadir between days 13 and 22. Pharmacokinetic studies indicated that the patients tolerated hGM-CSF for a limited period of time. Most of the side effects observed in patients with hematologic malignancies were present in our group of patients. The MTD for the combination of hGM-CSF and autologous tumor cells was found to be 1 x 10(6) tumor cells; therefore, the dose was modified to 5 x 10(6) tumor cells, and the dose escalation phase was performed with this lower cell number. Four of the nine patients studied achieved stable disease after six cycles.
