Like Photoshop, Photoshop Elements can be used for a variety of graphic arts

applications, such as picture retouching, digital photo composition, and text and image editing. You can also use Photoshop Elements to create custom Displays as a solid background and frame for your pictures, but you can't import or edit photos. Read Also: How to Use Photoshop Elements This handy tool is not only an alternative, but it's also a timesaver for less experienced users as well. With only a few clicks, you can edit almost every aspect of your photo, remove or add a border, add text, or even resize a photo by a certain percentage. Elements provides filters and effects that let you create stylized, unique images. You can also use the supplied plug-ins and post-processing filters from the Photoshop and Photoshop Elements repositories, or use your own. This tutorial will help you create a composite image in Photoshop Elements. In this tutorial, you will learn how to composite an image in Photoshop Elements 2018. A composite image is a solid image created from different single or multiple images, most commonly used for special effects. Read Also: How to Shoot a Composite Photo in Photoshop To composite a photo, you need to start with a few similar images. The best way to achieve this is to use photos that are similar in terms of subject, color, and lighting.

---

---

If you are new to Photoshop Elements, then try to learn a few techniques before working on this project. Steps to Composite Photo in Photoshop Elements Step 1: Prepare for Photoshop Elements Start by opening the Photos module. To do so, click the main menu button (it's a blue square with a camera icon) in the main window, and choose Windows > Photos. If the Photos module is not displayed on the main menu, you can also click the Blue Label under the main menu and choose From Library. For this tutorial, you can also use the free online photo viewer Pixlr to view the images. You will need to download these photo files in the same format as you will need in Photoshop Elements 2018. Step 2: Download Images 1. Login to Pixlr.com, click the gear icon in the upper right corner, and choose File Storage. 2. Click the cogwheel icon next to the display, and choose Import and add a new photo, or click Upload Photos 05a79cecff

---

---

9 Things You'll See When You're Texting Your Parents

0Shares If you're not watching your step, your parents might find out about your new online social life. If that happens, you might have the same experience as these celebrities. The only advice for these celebrities:

Don't go and ruin your relationship! That would be more than ungrateful, it would be cruel. And you probably wouldn't feel better if you were to find out that your brother's very cute girlfriend was texting you! Your parents might even get upset because of the contents of the texts. And these are 9 things you might hear when you're texting your parents: What are your parents doing? Your parents might have a tendency to call you at every hour of the day. Not only that, but they might even call you when you're sleeping. No, your parents aren't asleep. And yes, they might also send lots of text messages. That said, they'd be thankful if they found out their daughter or son was texting them. Have you ever forgotten an event that was happening? Your parents might be wondering why you didn't join your class on time. Or, they might find out about the events you joined from others. Or they might ask for your address and then decide to knock on your door. When was the last time you went out? You might have a tendency to be forgetful of the days you went out, and your parents might even learn about your activities from others.

---

What's worse is that they might start questioning your whereabouts. Can you see how your parents would find out about these? Are your parents stalking you? Your parents might notice that you're meeting lots of new people. They might learn about the people you've been meeting from others and from the text messages you've been receiving. Your parents might not be interested in what you're doing, and they might be afraid that you're meeting new people because you might be doing something that you shouldn't be. You might also want to tell your parents that you aren't interested in meeting new people. But your parents might find it hard to believe that you've taken such a big step. Did you go

---

Q: Converting a string to int.
Problematic character Problem:

In my programm, I have an textfield to enter a value for a limit to a Sum. The user enters it. Problem: If the user enters a string like "5K" to an integer, the sum of the value is returned as 5. This is the code for my textfield that checks if the value is an integer or a string.

isKeyChar = [identifier isKindOfClass:[NSString class]]

---

&& ( [identifier
characterAtIndex:0] == ' ' ||
[identifier characterAtIndex:0]
== '\r' || [identifier
characterAtIndex:0] == '\t' ||
[identifier characterAtIndex:0]
== ';' || [identifier
characterAtIndex:0] == ',' ||
[identifier characterAtIndex:0]
== ':' || [identifier
characterAtIndex:0] == '\\' );

---

Any suggestions to get it working as an integer? A: Just call intValue on the string, which works because all numbers are convertible to int. [str integerValue] On the other hand, you should be able to use NSScanner to parse an arbitrary string into an int. [NSScanner scannerWithString: str]; [intValue retain]; [scanner
