What's new in Fifa 22:

- FIFA 20s big makeover! In FIFA 22, the biggest change fans have ever seen arrives with a re-designed gameplay engine and data systems. Our team considered everything we've learned since its first release, like player performance and fatigue, ball physics, ball travel, and the impact of configuration changes. We use the same refined and smarter-than-ever FIFA Interactive Community (FIFA-IC) engine every year, so it wasn't even a question of whether or not to introduce new big-picture philosophy, but whether to do it in a way that's evolutionally sound and enjoyable for all new and existing players. Now that we're finally ready to unleash this bold new vision, we're confident we've made huge strides. We think you'll see, feel, and enjoy the rewards:

- Increased ball handling and awareness throughout gameplay thanks to new controls and more immersive gameplay features such as more weight on controls, goal celebrations, player-to-player sprints, and more complex side-to-side, top-to-bottom, and back-and-forth transitions as part of a new control system that makes player positioning, ball control, and gameplay feel intuitive and rewarding. In the previous version of FIFA, players could try to emulate these fundamental aspects of game play on their own, but only because they were limited.
- Improved player movement and collisions in small dribbling tactics to make you feel more in control as your targets move. Players with high ball skills and great dribbling ability will feel more confident each time the ball comes to them.
- Improved physics. We've made player collisions, overhead hits and player lifting in small confrontations more responsive while also increasing the player responsiveness in larger brawls.
