Whether you are a photo editor at an ad agency, are a graphic designer, web designer, or just a hobbyist, you should consider Photoshop Elements to edit or create new images in a simple way. Get Photoshop Elements, for free. Try it for free. New Photoshop Elements users often struggle to understand how to use this software. Therefore, I will show you what you need to know about this alternative to Photoshop. When I am referring to this software, I will call it Photoshop Elements. What is Photoshop Elements? If you have already used Photoshop, you will find a somewhat similar user interface. The basic functions that you should know are the editing functions for photographs. You can easily edit portraits and people, even make a picture look more professional or fantasy. And, there are a lot of other effects, filters and actions that are also useful. You can also create new images, create web pages, create animated gifs, designs, banners and icons. The basic editing functions are included in Photoshop Elements. For example, you can rotate images. Cropping, straightening, and other photo editing functions. However, if you have Photoshop, you can use the full Photoshop functions to edit even more complex images. You can save your images, as well as create new files directly from your memory card or camera. If you want to experiment, create a new document, and the image will be shown directly in the new document. You can format and edit text, backgrounds, and also create new documents. Finally, you can edit images. For example, you can delete unwanted parts of an image, add text, or make another image with additional features. You should know that Photoshop Elements is free software. If you have Photoshop, you can download and use Photoshop Elements for free. Simple Editing Functions So far, you have seen the main functions that are included in this software. Some of the more complex functions such as the effects or the filters were not included. The main editing functions include: Edit images Do more than just edit the picture, you can also fix problems with the brightness, contrast, shadows, and much more. It

Krebs on Security In-depth security news and investigation Posts Tagged: Montgomery County Maryland A Dallas web hosting company and its CEO have agreed to pay $150,000 to settle a federal lawsuit filed by the U.S. Justice Department accusing them of selling unlicensed malware that infected the computers of users of Mexican medical websites. The feds said in a statement that the settlement is the largest fine in U.S. history for a settling litigant under the federal False Claims Act. In April, we reported that the federal government had charged a medical device manufacturer with selling unlicensed malware (PDF) that infected the computers of Mexican doctors and hospitals. The malware made it possible for the companies in Mexico to harvest email addresses of doctors and pharmacies — including those in U.S. states — and target those doctors for additional... Read more » A Chicago company has agreed to pay $15,000 to settle a lawsuit filed by the U.S. Justice Department accusing it of illegally peddling a Web browser plug-in that secretly siphons off the search terms people use as they surf the Web. The government said in a statement that the settlement, filed on Tuesday in U.S. District Court in San Francisco, was the largest penalty imposed under the U.S. False Claims Act. In April, we reported that a Chicago man had been criminally prosecuted for selling a Web browser plugin that was secretly recording everything people typed into their browsers. Web browser plug-ins, known as Browser Helper Objects (BHOs) or add-ons, are downloaded from Web sites, typically to help users search the Internet and read Web pages more quickly. However,... Read more » A federal judge in New York has fined a Bulgarian corporation $1 million for selling unlicensed medical devices despite an FDA warning. The U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York (SDNY) entered judgment in favor of the federal government and against the company Nadech Surgiceutical in a lawsuit filed under the federal False Claims Act. In a press release (PDF), the SDNY alleged that Nadech has marketed and sold over 100,000 pieces of under-gloving for burns, leg ulcers, and other wounds that were not properly registered with the FDA. The court found that Nadech also illegally marketed and sold FDA-approved surgical devices for the same use without FDA approval. The company advertised that the products were "100%... Read more »
