Q: Are Exceptions allowed in Type Initializers? Can one or more exceptions be thrown when using a TypeInitializer? For example: public TypeInitializer() { try { Type.GetType("System.Int32"); } catch (Exception e) { throw e; } }

The code above generates the following compiler error 'System.TypeInitializer' does not contain a constructor that takes 0 arguments

A: No, exceptions in type initializers are not supported. You can read about the exception handling in TypeInitializer from Microsoft MSDN: Exception handling in type initializers // Copyright 2010 The Go Authors. What's New In Photoshop 2022 (Version 23.0.2)?

seems much nicer, yeah and it's obviously a headlight, although the post on the flickr site was referring to the entire car and i don't know which icon to use seems like the one with the windshield :) but they are all so great! i think it's hard to narrow it down to one, i like all of them! OMG! I knew it was a headlight but the "body/blinding light" icon at the the left of the post on flickr site just about scared me witless! lol I love the last one you posted as well. I think i'm going to get all 3 now:) Thanks for posting them.....it gives me chills! yeah, the pose of the headlight pics shows the one with the windshield is the one I meant... There aren't many "headlights" in the front, we just call them that for some reason I'm not aware of I love all your icons from above, they are really sweet, especially the one with the light blue background! I wish we had one of those in our house, it would be sooo cute to have a little lighting up in the street ^_^ Originally posted by Cellphone Thanks for the link! no prob, glad you like them! A little update on them: I've started adding them to the "Official Submission List" on ebay if they're any interest to anyone... if you want them! I've already sold more then I expected and I'm just looking for more. Then I'll make a news article about it... so cool the light blue one! I like the one you have up now too, that is a head light and very cool! I really like the next one with the big "X" and the head light, those would be perfect for the car dealership! The next one has a little ghost but me likes the light blue. The next one has a rubber duck on it! lolQ: iOS DistributedObjects - remove all references of an object? I need to purge all the objects and its references from the remote object store in an iOS app. The idea is when the user removes the app, the database would be cleaned of all objects and their references. I need to do this with the lowest level of programming. What would be the best way to purge all objects in memory?
