Click "START" and follow the instructions. THE TOPIC OF INDONESIAN SLANG LANGUAGE, SENTENCES. We live in a culture with a lot of slang. That slang seems to be eating away at the core of Indonesian speech. This is one of those facts that you either agree with or simply think are untrue. I know plenty of people who feel the same way I do about these topics. I thought today was a good day to write about the often-ignored topic of slang in Indonesian, especially the way it has affected Standard Indonesian (the one that the media and the government insist on us using). After watching the movie TRADING PLACES, I've become more interested in Indonesian slang than ever. Especially because it can help explain the language I've grown up speaking. (I'm not a linguist, but I do spend a lot of time studying Indonesian at high school and university. In the next few years, I hope to become a teacher of Indonesian.) There are so many differences between "Standard" Indonesian and what's actually spoken in Indonesia. I've asked my professor of Indonesian many times if there was any English slang in the Indonesian language. He has always said that there is no slang in the language. I can't believe him. There has to be! Find out what Indonesians say and listen to the language used in Indonesia. Words are beautiful in their own ways and we all have our own preferred words. The word that we choose and use with the most frequency has a special meaning in our minds. This short text is read to a young boy who is undergoing a painful castration procedure. Czysto.kontrola anj. i weso lubike Elon Musk lets slip in a new interview that he's a fan of Bitcoin. The capitalist pig would be the first guy in history to sell more of his company's stock in the market than he'd buy. Bitcoin is the future. Elon Musk delivers Steve Jobs' killer end-of-life speech, addressing his iconic resume and legacy and taking some shots at newer tech titans like Facebook and Google. The end is nigh. Jobs has been preparing for it since he told his kids he'd leave them a fortune, and he's now living it out, right before our eyes. Let's look at his legacy. It's been great. #geekgoals. Let's take a look at his legacy. He took PayPal public, for which he scored the biggest score of his life. Then he founded a Tesla car company which has been one of the most successful car companies in the history of the world and has put Musk's name on the car and space race. He then founded SpaceX. Which has now put people on the moon and plans to take us to Mars. Elon Musk also wants to take us to interstellar space travel. He has probably changed the fate of humanity. He's been traveling more than most rich people. He cares deeply about the future of humanity. He gave us the cofounders of PayPal. He's our best investor. He took Tesla public. He has done more in the last six months than any other human in history. And this is just the tip of the iceberg. The important thing here is the bottom line. He's done more in the last six months than any other human in history. So right now, he's my hero. And if you look at Tesla, SpaceX, you know, there's just so much more that can be done. So it's been pretty cool. He's done more in the last
