the spragues pipit is listed as one of the top 10 migratory birds in the united states. between 20 and 50% of the spragues pipit population overwinter in the northern rocky mountains. overwintering success is usually related to the amount of precipitation the birds receive during the winter. threats to its habitat include development of agricultural lands, as well as increased use of herbicides and pesticides. this leads to increased soil erosion and, thus, a diminished surface water supply. as a result, spragues pipit may be forced to rely on a diminishing series of shrubby growths for nesting and foraging, and thus may abandon its open grassland nesting grounds for areas of shrub cover ( minnesota department of natural resources 2015 ). although the species is quite adaptable, its breeding and wintering habitat is not ( minnesota department of natural resources 2015 ). currently, the spragues pipit is restricted to grasslands in southeastern minnesota, south-central manitoba, and northwestern saskatchewan, but recent evidence points to expansion of its range in the coming decades ( minnesota department of natural resources 2015 ). over the years, lea has also been a role model to many aspiring singers. she has been the recipient of several honours in recognition of her music and artistry. she has even been bestowed with an honorary doctor of humane letters degree from the university of saint thomas ( minnesota department of natural resources 2015 ). in 1996, she received the pioneer award from the minnesota nature association for her commitment to bird conservation. the same year, she was also honored with a star on the hollywood walk of fame. she was also named as one of the 100 greatest actors in motion pictures and she was selected as one of the 25 greatest female vocalists in film history. in 1994, she received the critics' choice award for best musical performance for her portrayal of eponine in les misérables. in 1999, she received the legends award from the american society of composers, authors, and publishers ( ascap ) for her 50 years of service to the music industry. not only that, she has also received many awards from the philippine-american cultural center, the golden globe (as a

Ang Pipit Music Score 23

the spragues pipit is a small dark brown bird that eats insects. males and females differ slightly in plumage. male spragues pipits have two dark brown stripes on their breast and belly. females have a single dark band on the breast and no chest band. wings are black with an orange tip. the tail is dark. the summer-fall flight plumage is similar to the spring-summer plumage except for the greenish-yellow to yellowish-greenish-olive vent, which is greenish-yellow or olive in spring and yellowish-olive in fall. female spragues pipits are similar to males in plumage except they lack the chest band and have a pale throat. they have a yellowish-olive bill, legs, and feet. the spragues pipit is similar in appearance to the olive-backed pipit, palila, brown-capped pipit, and stilt pipit. its calls are similar to the blue-gray gnatcatcher and the sprague's greenlet. my research on the spragues pipit was primarily to confirm the species identity of the birds observed on felton prairie in 2012, with additional information on their migration. reports of sprague's pipits in minnesota were generally based on limited observations from a single statewide survey that used pipsits as a check species. the mou survey was directed toward birds observed during fall migration. i conducted a series of surveys in southwestern minnesota during spring migration to identify the sprague's pipit and document the spring population in the state. i identified the sprague's pipit by referring to the mou checklist ( chen et al. 2003 ), which includes those characteristics necessary for a species to be accepted as a species. the identification of the spragues pipit from fall and spring surveys was based on the morphological characteristics described by chen et al. (2003) and by the mou checklist ( chen et al. 2003 ). the early surveys were based on the mou checklist and the later surveys on the characteristics of chen et al. (2003). the surveys were also based on the checklist of the state bird survey, which records a checklist number. the checklist numbers were used to identify the birds in the mou surveys as either sprague's pipits or as olive-backed pipits, as indicated in table 2. these birds were not identified to species level in the mou surveys. 5ec8ef588b
